Carmel Postal Chief Explains Rate Hikes

An "inherited" postal deficit of $1.2 billion is responsible for the proposals to raise the postage bill for residents of Carmel, according to Assistant Postmaster William P. Woolsey.

Woolsey said he had been advised by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount in Washington, that the record $1.2 billion 1970 deficit compelled President Nixon to seek postage rate increases.

Without higher rates the Department will be left with a staggering deficit that would become an added public tax burden.

In addition to increasing letter mail from 6 to 7 cents, as proposed by the Johnson Administration, President Nixon also asked that second and third-class mailers help reduce the largest postal deficit which would otherwise be paid by taxpayers, the postmaster said.

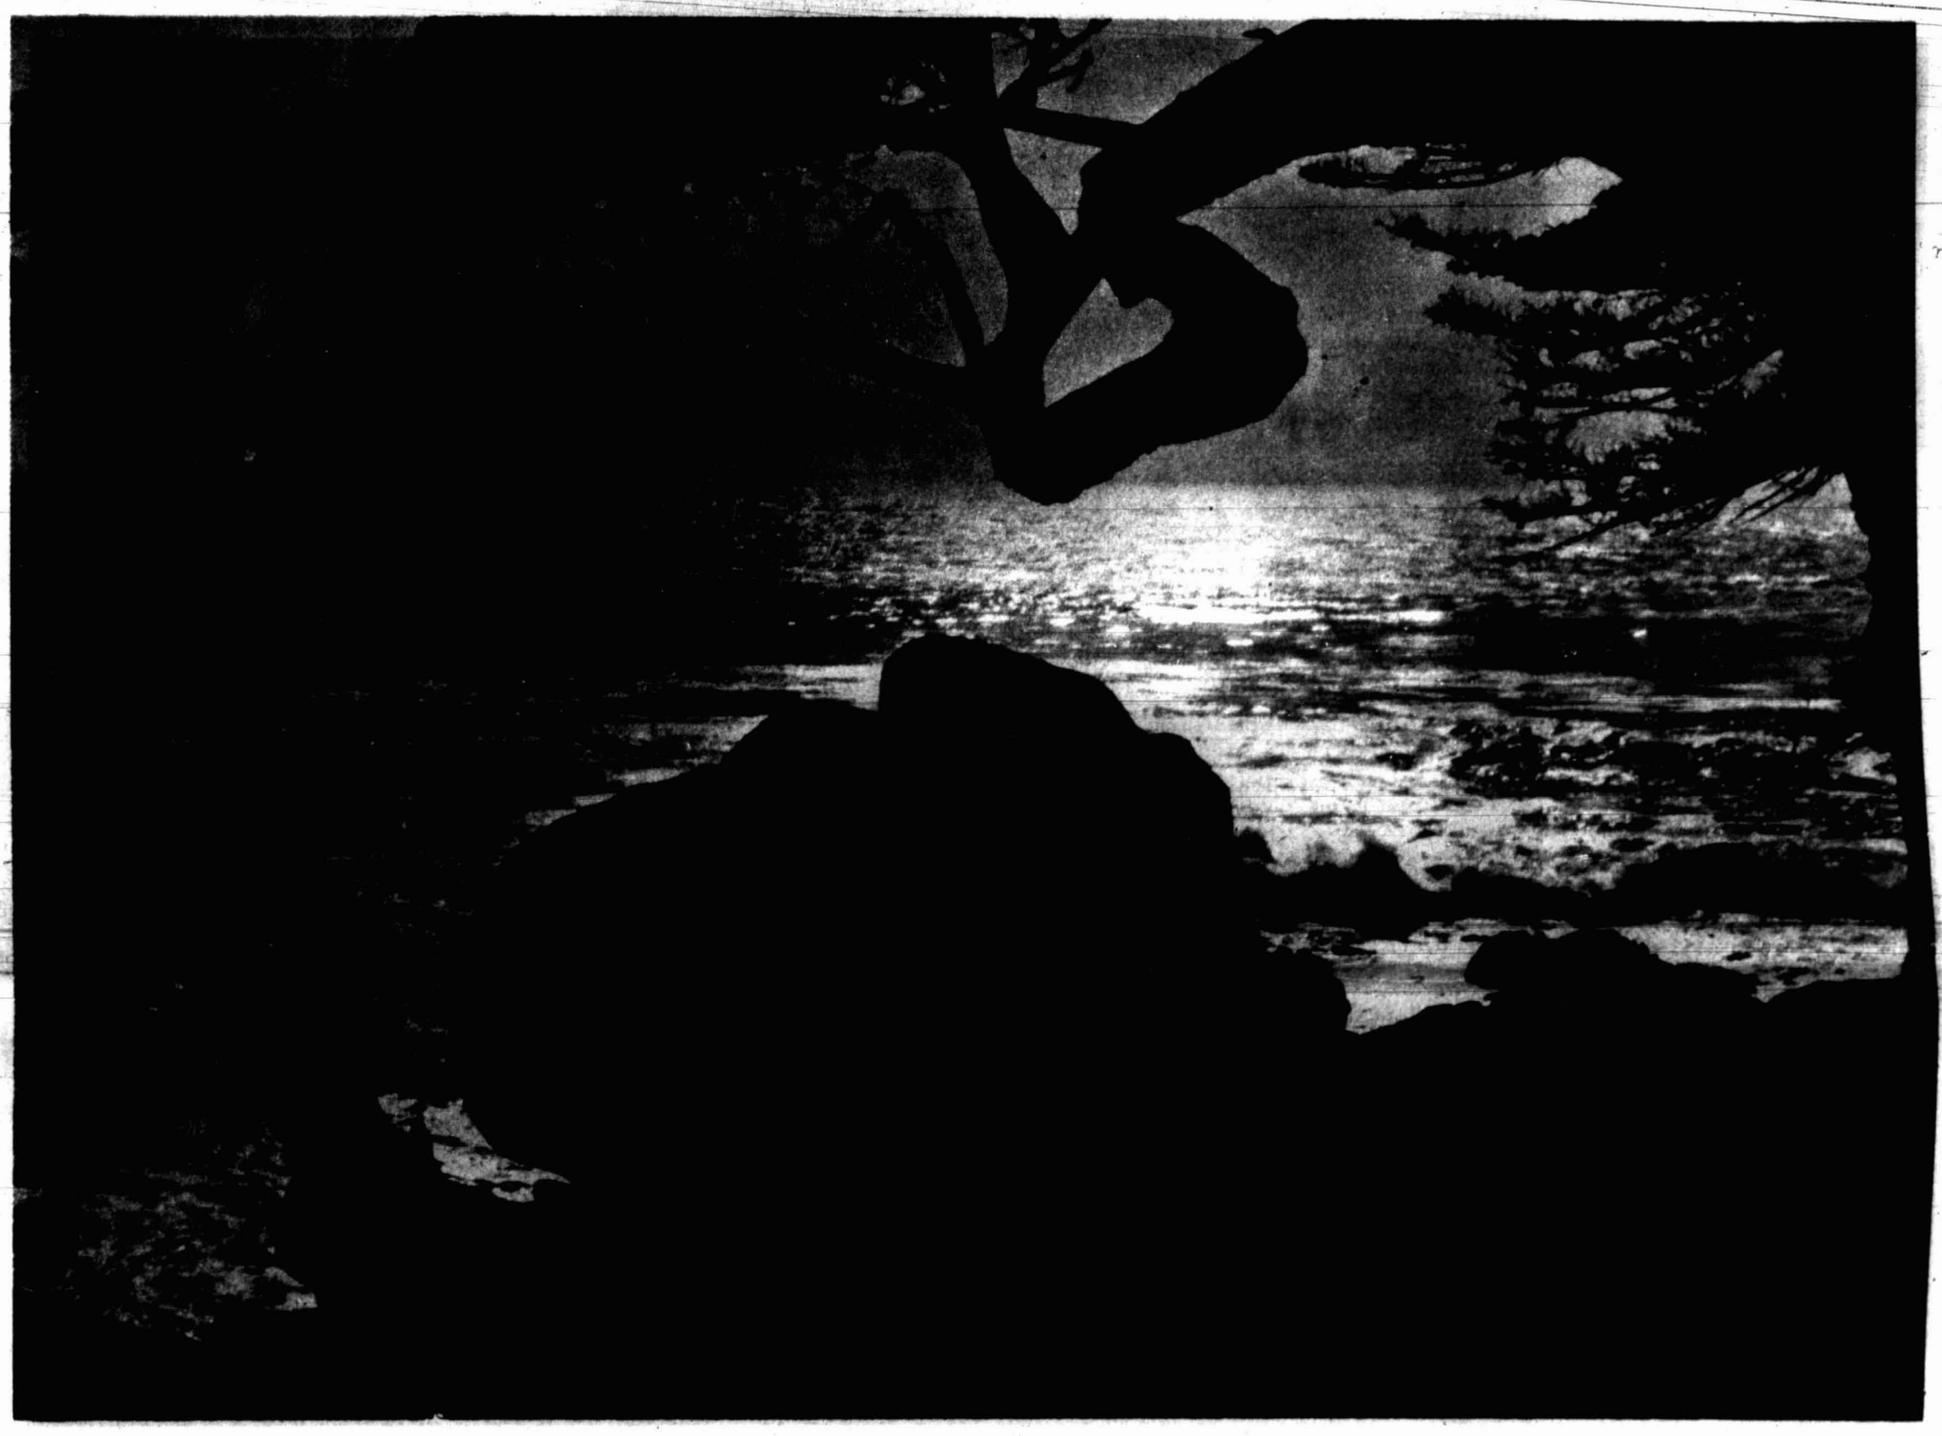
The President's recommended increases will reduce the 1970 postal deficit by more than $600 million.

The postmaster listed these other details on the proposed increases:

First-class mail: Letters and post cards would be increased one cent, to 7 cents an ounce and 6 cents a piece, respectively, on July 1. Airmail postage would remain at 10 cents. This will yield $557.2 million in new revenues.

Second-class mail: A handling charge of 3/10ths of a cent per piece for circulation outside home counties would become effective July 1, 1970. This would yield $15.3 million annually and would represent a 12 percent increase in addition to the 8 percent rise scheduled to take effect January 1, 1970.

Third-class mail: For single pieces, rates would be increased one cent per piece. This would yield $12.4 million. For regular bulk third-class, the minimum would be increased to a uniform rate of 4.2 cents Jan. 1, 1970, as contrasted with the present rate of 3.6 cents.



SILHOUETTE—Sunset photographs seem to be in the vogue these days. And why not? It's a quiet time, a relaxing time, and with Carmel's twisted ocean-side trees, sculptured rocks, restless ocean and shimmering sunset, it makes for a perfect setting.

Junipero Smoothing

Those "Road Closed," "Men Working," and "Detour" signs Carmelites encounter from time to time on Junipero between Ocean Ave. and 7th are not quite as temporary as one might suspect.

According to the Carmel Public Works people, the signs will be up occasionally, and probably more often than not, for the next 30 days.

Of course, the Department regrets the inconvenience, but that stretch of Junipero just has to be resurfaced and curbs installed, and while they will leave the street open as much as possible, it might be well to readjust some driving habits until the road is smooth again.

Carmel Decorator Firms Plan Exhibit Rooms for Home Show

Included in the 21 interior design and home decorating firms who will be exhibiting in the "Bouquet of Interiors" room displays, crux of Home Show '69, are six from Carmel.

Mary May's Bath Boutique, with Jo Grace Foltz A.I.D. (The Finishing Touch Decorator Shop), are planning a bath-boudoir where the lady of the house "may relax, do beauty things, and plan the busy doings of her life in peace and quiet."

The room, using a theme based on Daisy 'Mums' (all the rooms have a flower for a central theme) has a decor of bright spring greens, indigo blue and white.

Carmel Home Furnishings (owner Oliver White with Peggy Long A.I.D.) have joined creative efforts to create a striking Bachelor Quarters in bold red, white and blue. The blue tones are taken from the bachelor button flower, and are used in floor and furniture coverings. A red enamelled yacht fireplace, a game table and a telescope are important focus.

Dorothy Constans, A.I.D., will present a Ranch House Entryway, using such beautiful American antiques as an authentic Shaker chest and an American Chippendale chair. Fieldflowers are her theme, carried out in the shiny vinyl wallpaper and in a bright, tufted area rug.

Brazilian Interiors is showing a sitting room of imported leather and rosewood furniture, a soft rug of Brazilian lambfleece, and is using ornaments from Brazilian folklore. Sue Dewar is room designer, using roses as her theme . . . "Rose is for Rosewood." Her bold contemporary paintings of roses will be used on the walls.

Margery Haynes A.I.D. is showing a Solarium with the white hydrangea as her flower inspiration. A dark green flooring and white latticed

Del Monte Forest In Plea For Deer Protection

The Del Monte Properties Company has issued a reminder of the existing leash law to residents and visitors within Del Monte Forest. Each year at this time the problem of dogs running unattended is of serious concern to the Security Department. The principal complaint stems from residents who witness groups of dogs chasing and killing newly born deer.

"Those persons allowing their dogs to 'run at large' are in violation of C.O. 1070, and they may be cited into court and the dog may be impounded," said Security Chief, K. E. Anderson. Upon conviction of this violation of the ordinance, a person may be fined an amount not to exceed $500 or by imprisonment in the County jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

Bay Architects To Circulate Petition Banning Off Shore Oil Drilling

Enough has been seen and told about the Santa Barbara oil disaster to make us realize the dangers to natural resources inherent in off-shore oil exploitation. More evidence of damage is still coming in, more undoubtedly will come to light as time goes on. The lesson is clear.

We realize that oil is important for the national welfare and that all citizens and communities have to bear their share of national responsibility.

On the other hand, oil is not the only important resource.

At a time when food-producing earth surface is shrinking at an alarming rate, the oceans are gaining in importance as an essential food source. Thus, exploration of marine resources and training of scientists in the field of marine biology bear an invaluable potential for mankind and, in areas specifically suited for the purpose, are more important than pumping oil.

We already fill our share of the national responsibility by providing an environment for millions of recreation-starved people. In addition, being blessed with the necessary natural conditions, we are providing an environment for marine research and training. Oil exploitation off our coast would change all that.

The bills presently put before our state legislature asking for oil sanctuaries off our coast, if passed, will not adequately protect us even from mild disasters of the Santa Barbara type. They should be welcomed as a step in the right direction, but not as a lasting solution to a potentially disasterous situation. A line drawn upon water a few miles away from shore will not stop oil from killing marine life nor from spilling over our beaches.

Santa Barbara, with a hundred square miles of sanctuaries "guarding" its shores, has dramatically dem-

Council Favors Restaurant, Ponders City Hall Shift

A brief and unexpected interlude occurred near the beginning of last night's Carmel City Council meeting when Bert Rudolph, identifying himself as a candidate for the now vacant State Assembly seat held by the late Alan Pattee, asked if he could introduce himself.

Given permission, he said he first came to Carmel when he was two weeks old —necessarily with his family (he's now 40 years old) —and that his home, just south of Carmel, is one built and occupied by a former Carmel mayor, the late Everett Smith. In a further remark, he described himself as the "underdog grass roots Republican" in next month's Assembly election.

The Rudolph episode followed discussion of reconstruction work in progress at the Carmel sub-station of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company by Mrs. Edna Askew (whose property adjoins the sub-station) and members of the Council. Eventually Mayor Barney Laiolo said he would check immediately into matters in dispute between Mrs. Askew and the utility.

When a report from the city's Cultural Commission was read by City Administrator Hugh Bayless, members of the City Council seemed at first reluctant to take a stand favoring the establishment of a restaurant at the city-owned Sunset Center.

One of the "requirements for application" is that any successful applicant "must be eligible for and must obtain a beer and wine license."

Finally the Council did take such a stand—and without a dissenting vote.

Prior to the vote, Mayor Laiolo had referred to the Cultural Commission's objection to city offices at Sunset. The Commission had said that such offices "would take valuable space away from cultural uses."

Mayor Laiolo had said he himself favored such city use, and posed the question that the proposed restaurant at Sunset "could likewise take such space away." Then he had made the further point that people had voted for "community and cultural use of Sunset Center, but not for commercial use."

Though the Council took a stance favoring a restaurant at Sunset, it did not act on the further Cultural Commission proposal to keep City Hall uses off the property.

Councilman Eben Whittlesey referred to the possibility that both the post office and the city library might have to be located on the Sunset property before too long. The lease on the present post office site expires in July 1970, and the post office department has said it will need nearly double the space it now has, along with a large parking area.

There has been some thought that such facilities could be provided only by the city and only at Sunset. Meanwhile the city library board has proposed relocation of its facilities, and on a substantially enlarged basis, at Sunset.

The Cultural Commission is now publishing a newspaper notice asking for restaurant proposals by possible bidders by May 20, and may act on any such proposals as early as its May 26 meeting.

If the Cultural Commission were to act in favor of a specific proposal, the Planning Commission would next be asked to issue a use permit, and the City Council would then have to act on the long-term lease which would be likely to be involved.

Meanwhile citizens who have definite views in the restaurant matter, can bring those views to the Commissioners and Councilmen who would ultimately have to act on any Sunset Center proposal before it could be established.

An ordinance redefining motels received first reading last night, and 8 p.m., June 4, was announced as the time and date for a public hearing on a proposal to tighten controls on residential-area motels.

A detailed report by City Forester Robert Tate on the status of the urban forest was referred to the Council's committee on public welfare.

onstrated the fallacy of such approach.

Nothing less than a total ban on oil development off our coast must be accepted.

Every citizen of the United States, young or old, who understands the issue and is sympathetic with the requests of the petition should sign it (two identical petitions must be signed by each individual, for they are addressed to two different persons).

Volunteers are needed to tend the petition stands and to circulate them among people. For further information please call 624-1516.

'Me and Thee,' Hilarious Spoof of U.S. Mores Opens May 16 At Circle

Charles Horine's daffy, delightful uproarious new comedy, "Me and Thee" will have its opening night performance May 16 at the Circle Theater as a presentation of the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

"Me and Thee" is a fast-moving comedy with hilarious unexpected comic twists. The plot concerns Alice and Paul Carter, an ultra-conservative couple living in a swank New York apartment.

Paul is an architect doomed by an unkind fate to design only bathrooms. His friends call him the "famous Mr. John."

Alice, his kooky wife, has been trying for years to get her husband out of the bathroom and at least into the rumpus room.

Roger, their happy hippie son, is a Harvard University student, and is at that uncertain stage in life when he doesn't know whether or not to get up on a soapbox and protest against the world's injustices or throw himself on the floor and kick and scream. He very quickly gets himself involved in a fracas at school. His upset mother and father, not understanding the ways of modern youth, send him to the family psychiatrist, Grant Reeves.

Dr. Reeves sends Roger back to Alice and Paul with a stinging note, stating that their son's behavior is perfectly normal, but that it's Alice and Paul who are nuts!

Stunned, both Alice and Paul, convinced that they are mired deep within the "generation gap," suddenly leap into action and begin to explore their son's topsy-turvy world of the "now people."

This is where the fun begins. Paul, who has a trick knee which is an integral part of the plot, decides to live it up while Alice is away on a short trip. His knee goes awry in Schrafft's bar and he is helped by Lela, a Greenwich Village swinger, who is a wild and uninhibited girl when sober, but a high-minded lady when in her cups. Lela gets Paul home safely, but at an embarrassing moment the wife returns and she immediately suspects the worst. Alice orders Paul out of the house and then proceeds to some high living of her own.

Home Show

walls will be foil for white wicker chairs cushioned in bright green and white checks, ornamental white iron benches and table, and an normal pedestal stands for ferns. Pots of white hydrangea will give keynote to the central Flower theme.

Brinton's will show groupings of latest designs in outdoor furniture. Setting will be landscaping by Richard G. Murray, Carmel landscape architect, who is working with nursery growers and landscape contractors to create the delightful patio area.

The Home Show will open with a Champagne Preview on Thursday, May 15th, for which Children's Home Society members are selling tickets. The 3-day event will open to the general public at 10 a.m. on Friday, May 16, with hours 'til 10 p.m. the first day, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Democrats To Hold Open Meeting Saturday To Select Candidate

A Democratic nominating convention, open to all registered Democrats or members of the Young Democrats organization, will meet Saturday, May 10 at Carpenters Hall in New Monterey.

The convention will select a candidate for the California State Assembly vacancy created by the untimely death of Alan Pattee.

Registration will be at 9:30 a.m. at a fee of $2 or $1 for students.

Candidates will speak to the convention for which arrangements are in charge of Nick Hazdovac of Monterey. The meeting was planned at last weekend's caucus at the Mark Thomas.

The method may be "cumbersome, but it will be democratic" said Larry Bailey, publicity chairman of Salinas. "There will be no smoke filled room selection and we hope this will start a trend in the nation."

Committee Named

Mrs. Mary Barter, president of the Carmel Business Association has named a committee to cooperate with the Parking and Traffic Committee of Carmel City in helping to solve Carmel's parking problems.

Chairman of the Cooperative Parking Committee is James Peter Cost, Carmel seascape artist, and J. O. Handley, William Jennings and David Banks make up the rest of the committee.

Choral Society Joins Symphony May 13

The curtain comes down on the local concert season on May 13th when the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and the 80-voice Monterey Peninsula Choral Society join in a performance of Verdi's "Manzoni Requiem."

Four of the west coast's most talented opera stars will be on stage as soloists; they are Meg Broughton, Willene Gunn, Rico Serbo, and James Tippey.

Miss Broughton, a soprano, has sung with every symphony orchestra in Northern California. Mezzo soprano Willene Gunn is a member of Western Opera Theater and was one of the outstanding voices of the 1967 and 1968 Cabrillo Music Festivals. Lyric tenor Rico Serbo has performed throughout the west and southwest with most of the major symphony and operatic groups. Baritone James Tippey was last year's leading baritone with the San Francisco Western Opera Theater.

The "Manzoni Requiem" was written in 1873 to pay tribute to the memory of one of Italy's most famous authors and poets, Alessandro Manzoni. Critics have described it at various times as being Verdi's "greatest opera" and as "the ultimate in religious dramas."

The composition proves to be a very suitable vehicle for the combined talents of the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society. This group is now in its seventh year and has received considerable critical acclaim for its presentations at the Festival of Renaissance Music and at Carmel Mission Basilica. Earlier this season, the Society appeared at the Naval Postgraduate School in Handel's "Messiah."

The Tuesday evening concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Carmel's Sunset Center Auditorium. Ticket information may be obtained from the Symphony Office at 624-4125.

Willene Gunn and James Tippey will sing the mezzo soprano and baritone roles in Guiseppi Verdi's "Manzoni Requiem" on Tuesday evening, May 13th, when Monterey County Symphony Orchestra winds up its current concert season. Also featured will be the 80-voice Monterey Peninsula Choral Society.

Boyer Students To Perform

On Saturday May 10 at four in the afternoon a recital by elementary and intermediate students of the Gilbert Boyer Piano Conservatory will be held at the Carmel Museum of Art, Dolores near Seventh Avenue, Carmel, which recital is open to the public.

Piano students of Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. E. C. Crittenden and Mr. Gilbert Boyer will perform. They are Kathleen and Danielle Collins, Randy Compton, Danny Concepcion, Valerie Curtis, Scott Fitzgerald, Diana and Livia Giusi, Susan and Bryan Mansour, Linda Meyer, Kim Oman, David and Riza Shefik, Mrs. Irmgard Schwirtzke, Mrs. Frances Sentner and Beth Smith.

Musical Comments

By Margot Hyatt

Stoia String Trio Plays Brilliantly

Just as I was about to believe the modernists who say that everything has already been written in music which has a beginning, a middle, an ending, definite rhythm, and something new to say in melodious themes and harmony, the Stoia String Trio comes along with a Trio in C Major written in 1933 by Jean Francaix.

Light, frothy, fast and rhythmical, it made the Schubert Trio No. 1 in B flat Major which preceded it seems almost heavy by comparison. It contained a plaintive serenade movement also which gave the cello, played Donald Homuth and the viola, played by Albert Gillis, the opportunity to display the richness of their tones.

There are two recordings of the Francaix, according to Eugene Stoia, the violinist leader of the group. One is by Heifetz, Primrose and Piatagorsky. He likes better the older, Westminster recording by Jean Pougnet, Fred Riddle and Anthony Pini, of England, which can sometimes be found.

Presented by the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society at the Carmel Museum of Art, the afternoon performance ended with the Beethoven Trio in E Flat Major, played impeccably by the newly formed group, all of whom teach at San Jose State College.

It was the first string trio heard in Carmel since the Pasquier Trio about 15 years ago, according to Mary Louise Schneeberger.

Britten Work Highlights Orchestra

Two Mozart symphonies, No. 29 and No. 40, were presented by the very well proportioned and blended Amici Della Musica Orchestra in the new Monterey Peninsula College gym last Friday evening.

Led by Richard Williams, the youngish ensemble (one of three full time, all professional orchestras in California, the others being the San Francisco Symphony and the Los Angeles Philharmonic) gave a good account of themselves.

Their instruments were capable of the delicacy demanded by the No. 29, played at a lively, rhythmical pace and the strength of a large orchestra in the popular Mozart No. 40.

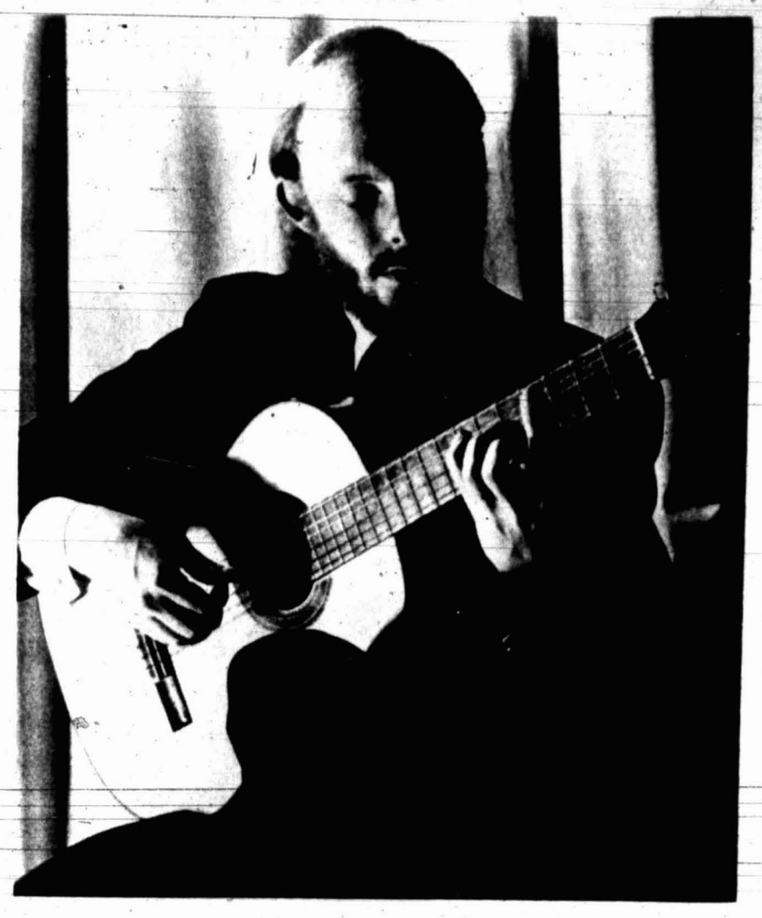
The surprise of the evening was the brilliant performance of "Les Illuminations" by Benjamin Britten sung by Helene Joseph, a very gifted soprano.

Beginning with a fanfare in which the violas sounded like horns and the cellos imitated the roll of drums, Miss Joseph introduced a savage parade, sounding a bit like Brunhilde in the "Valkyrie."

Her bell-like tones and dramatic delivery were perfectly disciplined, and added another voice and another color to the interesting harmonic blend of instruments.

The work consists of ten short songs from the French poems of Arthur Rimbaud.

The Rumanian Dances by Bela Bartok sounded rough and earthy compared with the sophisticated Britten score and the smooth classic purity of the Mozart.



Peter Evans

Guitarist Peter Evans to Play At Sunset

For the final bonus concert of the year, Friday, May 23 at Sunset Theater at 8:30 p.m. The Carmel Music Society takes pleasure in presenting the guitarist Peter Evans, who is living in this area. After subscribers and guests are admitted, others may be seated free of charge.

He will present a program in flamenco and classical guitar, a combination not often heard together in concert.

Peter Evans began to play flamenco guitar at the age of fifteen and studied first in Los Angeles. In 1960 he went to Spain to further develop his talent and to pursue flamenco. For a year he travelled and studied with the gypsies, accompanied dancers and singers and was a soloist in cafes and cabarets in Madrid. Both the audiences and the critics received him enthusiastically, calling him "El Rubio de California" (the California blond).

In 1964 his flamenco record album, "An American In Spain," was recorded by R.C.A. Victor.

During the last few years, the artist has expanded his repertoire to include classical works from those of the Renaissance to contemporary, as well as some of his own compositions.

The Garden Fair At La Playa Saturday

Students, parents and friends of All Saints' Day School in Carmel Valley Road have been involved for weeks in garden workshops in preparation for The Garden Fair, this year's fund raising event, to be held May 10, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the La Playa Hotel.

Mr. Howard Allen has donated the ground facilities of the La Playa Hotel for the event. Mr. Robert N. Wenzler, landscape designer, has donated his services as Consultant and Mr. Craig Bowen his services as Public Relations Advisor.

Other participants in THE GARDEN FAIR are Rudolph's of Monterey, Brinton's, NB Flowers, Karen's Kreations & Kapers, Ken Dickens, Lilli Boutique and Troy Hunter, Carmel.

Some friends and sponsors are Watson's Nursery, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fenton, Mrs. Leland Cagwin, Mr. and Mrs. George Schroeder, Georgia von Richter, and Men's Group of All Saints' Parish.

Green Thumbs, Green Cash and Green Plants are needed for The Garden Fair. Anyone interested in contributing may call Mrs. Howard Allen, Chairman at 624-7974 or 624-6476.

Living With Children PWP Topic

Changing obnoxious behavior in children is a job in "human engineering" not unlike building a bridge, said Dr. Gene England of Carmel, educational psychologist who heads the Monterey Institute of Speech and Hearing, who was the featured speaker at the Parents Without Partners meeting at the Hyatt House last week.

First you decide on a specific objective; then you break the operation down into small steps after counting or measuring what is currently happening; then you design a program.

Starting with one behavior, you choose the kind of reward which will reinforce the desired behavior. This reward may be time spent with the child, money, praise or a privilege.

At first you will reward good behavior everytime it occurs; later less often. You keep track of the number of times the habit occurs. If there is little or no improvement, you break down the steps into smaller units.

In response to questions and requests from the audience, he suggested that members order the book "Living with Children" by Patterson which can be ordered in lots of 50 at reduced rates. Gloria Brinsmead of Carmel, club secretary, will accept orders at 624-4784.

Spring Music Festival At CHS Gym

The Carmel Unified School District will present its annual Spring Music Festival on Thursday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of the Carmel High School.

The Festival will feature students who are receiving instrumental and music instruction in the elementary, middle and high schools of the district. The various performing groups will be under the direction of Miss Sharon Jones, Gene Perrine, J. W. Larson, William Purdy, Henry Avila, and John Farr.

STRING PLAYERS — Middle School students of Miss Sharon Jones will be among groups of instrumentalists from all the schools in the district to be heard tonight, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the CHS gym. Cello players are Anita Campbell and Livia Giusi; violins, Candy Kaller and Megan Criley; violas, Regan Beckmeyer and Brenda Clough.

May Day Festival At Woods School

The 19th annual May Day Festival will be held Friday, May 9th at 1 p.m. on the kindergarten lawn at Woods School on Dolores.

Each class, kindergarten through 4th grade will present a dance or march. The highlight of the festival is the traditional maypole dance executed by some of the 4th grade girls.

Following the festival, which lasts about 45 minutes, refreshments will be sold by parents, with proceeds going to the Parent Club Treasury of Woods School.

GARDEN TOUR — Hostess Mrs. R. J. Hatterscheid is greeted by Mrs. Charles Trumbly of Carmel whose intimate garden will be one of those opened for the Garden Tour on Monday, May 12 from 10 to 4 p.m. The tour of Carmel and Pebble Beach gardens is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services as a benefit for the Visiting Nurse Association.

Garden Tour of Carmel and Pebble Beach Gardens Monday

One of the main considerations in the selection of gardens on display for the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Garden Tour to be held on Monday, May 12th, for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse Association, was convenience for the visitors. Mrs. Richard Bower and Mrs. Howard Murphy, selection committee, chose five gardens in Carmel and five in Pebble Beach.

Those in Carmel are located on Carmel Point and near the Carmel Gate to the 17-Mile Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Haas have consented to open the "Tea House" garden on Carmelo between 16th and 17th; Mrs. Avery Tompkins and Mrs. Charles A. Trumbly are opening their two personally tended gardens on Valley View and 16th, and on San Carlos and Santa Lucia.

Two other gardens in Carmel are on the way to the gate to Pebble Beach. Mrs. Green Chapman's garden is on San Antonio and 4th, and the other belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Koebeg is on Camino Real and 4th.

Inside the Carmel Gate is a large garden of Mr. and Mrs. Alger Chaney on Cypress Drive. Nearby is the garden of Mrs. A. B. MacAlpine on Padre Lane and Cabrillo.

Col. and Mrs. Allen Griffin's garden is on Portola Raod and Sambria Way Flower arrangements will be shown in the house and garden owned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Frame on Oleada Road between Ronda and Cortez.

A complementary tea will be served at "Woodport" on the 17-Mile Drive near Venadero belonging to Mrs. T. A. Work from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Del Monte Properties Company has graciously waived all gate fees to Tour ticket-holders.

There will be two seatings of an optional pool-side snack lunch at the Beach and Tennis Club at 12 noon and at 1 p.m. Reservations should be made with MPVS for the lunch.

Tickets for the Tour may be obtained from Miss Edith Rivett, 624-7246. On the day of the Tour, tickets will be for sale at any of the gardens or at any gate of Del Monte Properties.

A bus will be available at the Carmel Foundation, 8th and Lincoln in Carmel, at 1 p.m. on Monday, May 12, for those without transportation to the Tour or who prefer not to drive. The charge for the afternoon will be $1.50; and reservations should be made as soon as possible with the Foundation.

Forrest Cornwall Married in SF

The wedding of Forrest Cornwall and Judith Rae Ohren took place Apr. 3 in San Francisco.

Forrest, a graduate of Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College, will graduate from San Francisco State College in June. It was there that he met his bride who is planning to be a kindergarten teacher.

The young couple have an apartment at 1130 Shrader in San Francisco. They plan to go abroad following graduating and continue his education in Florence, Italy, his mother's birthplace.

Forrest is the son of Mrs. Lee (Juney) Cornwall of Hatton Fields and of Carroll Cornwall of San Francisco.

He is known here for his creative photography.

Polly Campbell Chosen La Favorita

The Monterey History and Art Association has chosen Polly Campbell of Carmel to be La Favorita when it celebrates Monterey's 199th birthday next month. The annual Merienda will be held in Memory Garden on June 7.

Polly is the daughter of Superior Court Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell of Carmel. She will be attended by Sally Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomson Hudson of Point Lobos, and Julie Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Costello of Monterey.

Her Duena will be Mrs. Louis C. Moore of Carmel Valley who is a direct descendant of Gov. Jose Dario Arguello, the ninth and last governor of California under Spanish rule.

Graduate of Carmel schools and Monterey Peninsula College, Polly is a junior sociology major at the University of California at Berkeley.

Her sister Julie, a Pan American Airlines hostess, was the Merienda Favorita in 1965. Her other sister Lynne, a registered nurse, is doing graduate work in neurophychiatry at Loma Linda University.

Polly's paternal great-grandfather, James H. Campbell, was the first dean of the University of Santa Clara Law School.

Her grandfather, Argyll Campbell, who came to Carmel in 1914 was one of its most influential citizens in preserving the village-like character of Carmel. He served as city attorney for many years.

Judge Campbell, a graduate of Stanford and the University of Oregon Law School, was appointed U. S. Marshall for China at Shanghai in 1938.

He again interrupted Monterey law practice to serve as a Naval officer in World War II, after which he established a law firm here. After acting as Municipal Court judge in Monterey for two years, he was nominated to the Superior Court in 1962.

Polly's mother, the former Doris Dale, was born in Monterey, the daughter of Mary Newbrook and Joseph Dale, natives of England. Polly is the niece of Marjorie Dale and John Campbell both of Carmel.

French Conversation Tea

Mrs. Edward Hogan will entertain members of l'Alliance Francaise, and their guests, at the monthly French Conversation Tea on Thursday, May 15 at 3 p.m. The address is Villa Marquitta, Hidden Hills, Los Laureles Grade, Carmel Valley. For reservations telephone either to the hostess, Mrs. Horgan at 373-2081, or Means James Hathaway at 372-1138 or Mrs. Sean Flavin at 373-3978.

This tea will be in the nature of a farewell to Mrs. Jehanne Salinger-Carlson who leaves in May to visit her son Pierre Salinger in Paris and to travel through favorite spots in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan also will depart for a motor tour through Europe soon to spend ten weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Paco Ferro, members of l'Alliance, have already departed for two months in Rome and Naples. Bon Voyage to all until we meet again in Carmel.

"l'Entrepot is True Elegance" l'Entrepot, with its posh name, is a true reflection of the Pine Inn's traditional domination over Carmel.

The word means a bonded warehouse (par excellence) in France.

For us it contains veritable treasures.

Under the ownership of Mrs. Donna Hofsas-Smith, and managed by Peyton March with Mrs. Colin McCulloch, this "frais d'entrepot" in the Pine Inn compound has an enviable storage of beautiful objects.

The gift items on the Carousel, which commands the front room, contribute to the "turn-of-the-century" atmosphere of this elegant rendezvous . . . a real landmark in Carmel.

Amusingly, the carousel was constructed to support fire-hose in the old Fox Theater in San Francisco. It matches the Circa 1906 decor of the Pine Inn. Observe the plush red carpeted shelves. They display crystal and silver champagne coolers, ice containers, carafes, cruet, chafing and fondue sets. Its dashing copper hood rivals the brass trimmings.

But l'Entrepot does not confine itself to decorative gifts. It is replete with everything for ones dining pleasure . . . in cans, bottles, dried or "potable."

Practical, portable epicurean soups such as Florida Blue Crab, Romaine, Chicken Curry, Gazpacho and Seafood Bisque are very much "in" with the after-hors d'oeuvres crowd. In fact, imaginative soups are served right through the evening . . . at home.

There is a Cheese Corner with wine-flavored cheese spreads de luxe. And those fancy gift tea boxes; preserves! Every coffee is here, ground and "in bean." Spices and herbs abound and the popular "Widow's Mite" spiced vinegar is sold by the half gallon to satisfy the demand.

As you linger in the lower level . . . the warehouse itself . . . you'll be overcome either by a nostalgic or a budding new interest in fine food. Curry powders straight from India. Chutneys to accentuate, such as Bengal, Kashmir, Mango. Rices mixed with spices and ready for cooking. Phyllis Jervey's "Rice & Spice" cookbook telling how!

There is canned Hearts of Palm for the most recherchee salad.

Flavorings extend from almond to wintergreen and clear vanilla extract for cakes. Sweet pickled Honey Dew, Kumquat or Watermelon relishes. Honeys of every delicate texture most bees have not yet discovered. Old Colony Real Vermont Maple Syrup.

Peyton March, long a connoisseur of superior liquors, liqueurs and wines, both domestic and imported, has stocked the paneled shelves with the best for your choosing or his expert counseling.

With the expertise in everything that Mrs. Hofsas-Smith does, we are grateful for her contribution of a Sunday Supper Menu. Known for her undisputed taste, both in her collection of antiques at her own home and also her "Hofsas House," Donna knows her cuisine too. For Donna's Sunday Supper:

Tomato Shrimp Frost

One-and-a-half oz. can consomme Madrilene; 6 med-size cooked shrimp, shelled and deveined; ½ t. Worcestershire; ¾ cup tomato juice; ¼ t. salt; ½ cup rose wine; shrimp and lemon wedges for garnish.

Measure consomme, shrimp and Worcestershire sauce into blender. Cover and blend at high speed. Add juice, salt and wine. Pour into refrigerator tray. Place in freezing compartment with controls set high. Stir several times while mixture is freezing. When almost firm, whip with a rotary beater. Spoon into sherbet or all-purpose wine glasses. Garnish with cooked shrimp and lemon wedges. Serve cold. For 6.

Beef Stroganoff with Mushrooms

Two lbs. filet of beef; salt and pepper to taste; 2 T. butter; 1 T. flour; 2 cups beef stock; ¼ cup sour cream; 3 T. butter; 3 cups fresh mushrooms; 1 onion, finely chopped; packaged green noodles.

Cut beef into narrow strips, ½ in. thick and 2 in. long. Season well with salt and pepper. Let stand 2 hours in cool place.

Blend 2 T. butter and flour, each, over heat until bubbly and smooth. Gradually add beef stock and cook until mixtures thickens. Add sour cream, stirring constantly. Simmer a few minutes. Brown meat in 3 T. butter. In separate pan saute fresh mushrooms, sliced diagonally, with onion in butter. Add meat and mushrooms to sour cream sauce. Cover pan and cook over low heat 20 min. Serve with cooked packaged green noodles. Follow directions for same. Serve hot for six over electric table warmer or chafing dish.

Sherried Apple Pudding

Six medium-size cooking apples; ½ cup sherry; ⅓ cup lemon juice; 1 cup sugar; ½ t. cinnamon; ¼ t. salt; ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour; ½ cup butter; Sherry Custard Sauce (follows):

Peel, core and slice apples into buttered 9-in. pan or baking dish (about 4 cups). Combine sherry; lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, cinnamon and salt and pour over apples. Resift flour with remaining sugar; add butter and mix into fine crumbs. Sprinkle over apples in an even layer. Bake in 350 F. oven 35 min. or until apples are tender. Serve warm with:

Sherry Custard Sauce

Three egg yolks; 2 T. sugar; speck of salt; ½ cup boiling hot milk; ¼ cup sherry; 1 T. butter.

Beat yolks with sugar and salt. Blend in hot milk. Cook over hot (not boiling) water until mixture coats a spoon in a thick layer. Stir now and then. Slowly beat in sherry. Remove from heat and stir in butter. Cool and serve over apple pudding.

Peyton March, who enjoys cooking, tells us that l'Entrepot is a shop for specialties instead of "just another luxury tourist-trap." His following specialty reflects his approach to entertaining—outdoors by preference.

London Broil Barbecue for Four

Purchase London Broil steak, cut into 1½-2 in. thick piece, from your local butcher. Marinate 2-3 hours in following

Cheese-Garlic Marinade

One small pkg. Good Season's Cheese-Garlic Dressing. Follow directions. Use only half cup of this with 1 cup Burgundy wine. Place steak, trimmed, in flat baking pan; rub with salt and cracked pepper. Pour marinade over and let remain at room temperature, turning so marinade soaks through, for 2-3 hours.

Over a good hot charcoal fire, barbecue steak to a nice brown all over. It must be rare inside! Serve steak by thinly slicing . . . on the diagonal. Have foil-wrapped charcoal baked potatoes (or these can be done in the kitchen oven.) But be sure they are served piping hot, split open with plenty of butter . . . salt, paprika, ground pepper to taste.

Thickly sliced firm beef steak tomatoes (those huge ones), and an avocado on-the-half-shell (with lime juice and salt) per person, is the answer to proper enjoyment of the London broil flank steak. A full bodied Burgundy or Cabernet Sauvignon will enhance the laissez-faire of this elegante picknique!

Peyton suggests a salad, almost like a Caesar, but less complicated. Have "broken-with-ones-fingers" local butter lettuce, rinsed and chilled, mixed with a few cut up macadamias, and/or cubed water chestnuts and bottled sliced marinated artichoke hearts. C'est tout!

Finish off with

Peyton's Quicy-Easy Wine Cake

One (1 lb. 3 oz.) pkg. chocolate fudge cake mix; 1 (4½ oz.) pkg. chocolate instant pudding mix; 4 eggs; ¼ cup salad oil and sherry, each.

Combine ingredients. Mix with electric blender about 5 min. at medium speed. Pour batter into buttered angel food tin. Bake in 350 F. oven 45 min. before turning upon cake rack. Sprinkle with powdered sugar or use 1 pkg. chocolate fudge frosting.

For those who prefer whitecake, use a white cake mix and vanilla instant pudding with the eggs, salad oil and sherry for the same wonderfully moist cake.

Our accolades to l'Entrepot for this "Party Plans" exclusive . . . Donna, Peyton . . . Gina . . . all avowed "Carmelites," and gourmets.

Broadway Hit 'Born Yesterday' Is Story of A Not-So-Dumb Blonde

Three favorites with local audiences play the leads in the Garson Kanin comedy "Born Yesterday" opening Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel. Luann Brown who stopped the show as Miss Adelaide in "Guys And Dolls" last winter appears in the Judy Holliday role of Billie Dawn. She has also been seen in "The Boy Friend," 'A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" and "Hay Fever."

Bob Lotz, whose versatility has been demonstrated in a wide range of parts, plays the rough-hewn Harry Brock to whom Billie is little more than another possession. Lotz has just finished "Ten Little Indians" at the Circle where he also did "Luv." For the Studio his credits include "The Little Foxes," "Barefoot In The Park," "Send Me No Flowers" and "Janus."

As magazine writer Paul Verrall who develops both a professorial and romantic interest in Billie, Rod Allison draws on experience in "The Fantasticks" at the Studio and "The Roar Of The Greasepaint" at the Circle.

Most of the supporting roles are also filled by actors of broad accomplishment. Ed Shinbrot as Senator Norval Hedges continues a long succession of appearances in Peninsula productions, including "A Funny Thing," "Guys And Dolls," "Carnival," "The Odd Couple," "Harvey" and "When We Are Married."

Betty Hughes who plays Mrs. Hedges was active in San Francisco theatre before moving here and has since been seen in "Hedda Gabler," "A Delicate Balance" and "When We Are Married" at the Circle.

Mike Williams as Jim Devery, Brock's supine lawyer, was previously in "When We Are Married" following "Guys And Dolls" at the Studio. Gresh Ivey, Brock's cousin and flunky, was first seen here in "Wait Until Dark" as the sinister Carlino.

Peter Hanson in the part of the assistant manager of the hotel where the action of "Born Yesterday" is set, has previously appeared in "The Best Man" for the cir- "The Best Man" for the Circle and in "Prince Of Liars" and "All A Mistake" for The First Theater.

Making their local debuts this weekend are Monica E. Brueni as the hotel maid and John K. DeSantis as a bellhop.

Under the direction of Dave Kirk, the laugh-filled comedy which ran four years on Broadway, will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights through June 21. Reservations for this and following weekends may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Movie Review

100 Rifles — Story of the Yaku Indian uprising in Mexico in 1912. Jim Brown and Raquel Welch star in this made-in-Spain Western.

Charly — Experimental brain surgery changes a mentally retarded young man into a brilliant adult confronted with new and serious problems. Cliff Robertertson, Claire Bloom.

Bullitt—A beautifully photographed chase is the outstanding feature of this generally excellent film. Steve McQueen, Robert Vaughn and newcomer Jacqueline Bisset.

Barbarella — Jane Fonda is well cast as a super-austronautress in the year 40,000 looking for a nut with a death ray. Perils and lovemaking beset her in her search.

Bedazzled — A sterling comedy based on the man who sells-his-soul-to-the-devil plot starring Peter Cook and Dudley Moore. Excellent direction, even better satire.

Follow Me — Surfers, here's your picture! Filmed in spots from Portugal to Hong Kong and Tokyo, this took more than a year to produce. Claude Codgen, Mary Lou McGinnis hang ten.

Monterey Pop—Documentary of the 1967 Monterey International Pop Festival. The Jefferson Airplane, the Holding Company and the Canned Heat are featured among others.

The Shoes of the Fisherman—A simple priest comes to Rome to become Pope and strives for peace amid the turmoil of the modern world. Anthony Quinn, Laurance Olivier, Oskar Werner, John Gielgud and Vittorio De Sica.

Finders Keepers, Lovers Weepers — This play on the nursery rhyme was directed by Russ Myer who made "Lorna," "Faster, Pussycat, Kill, Kill," and the like.

Theatre Guide

Ten Little Indians — Alternating comedy and chilling suspense make this Circle Theater production great entertainment. Direction is well paced, acting more than adequate, and it all adds up to another hit from the Community Players. Reservations recommended by calling 624-2669.

OKLAHOMA! — Carmel residents Dottie Hale, right, and J. C. Hale, who is cast as Andrew Carnes, discuss relations between "The Farmer and the Cowman" with Maurine Trujillo, left, in the Naval Postgraduate School Little Theater spring musical "Oklahoma!" The curtain will rise on Rodgers' and Hammersteins familiar musical at 8:30 p.m. on May 9, 10, 16 and 17. All performances will be held in King Hall Auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend. For your convenience, the 7th and 9th Street gates in addition to the Main gate to the school will be open. Tickets may be purchased at the door one hour before show time or at Thunderbird Book Store in Carmel and Abinante's Music Store in Monterey. A special rate is available for groups of ten or more. All seats are reserved. Please call 375-5600 or 646-2284 for reservations and information.

. . . AND THEN THERE WERE SIX — Six little Indians are all that are left in the Agatha Christie chiller based on the nursery rhyme about diminishing red men. Now playing at the Circle Theater through May 11, the cast includes, from left, veteran actress Betty Fowlston as Emily Brant, Bob Lotz as General MacKenzie, Ruth McElroy as Mrs. Rogers and Bill Scholefield as Sir Lawrence Wargrave.

Robertson Show At Zantman's Gallery Emphasizes Artist's Versatility

By Louise Cook

Richard Robertson has the spotlight at Zantman Art Galleries during May.

To have a one-man-show at this important gallery at the age of 27 is indeed an honor and also proof of an established talent and reputation.

Mr. Robertson uses many familiar local subjects for his paintings. "Point Pinor Lighthouse" stands out starkly white against a gray sky.

Three gulls form a well-grouped composition of grays and whites.

Neutral colors are used almost entirely in this artist's conception of his surroundings. Stark realism is achieved in watercolors of rocks, trees, tortuous roots, desolate farm buildings and a grounded buoy, all done in minute detail.

The only color seen is in the red bricks of the "First Brick House in Monterey."

The slanting grin of a hard-bitten farmer enhances "Up in the Loft."

Richard Robertson is a native of Oregon and returns there in the winter to paint the snow he enjoyed as a boy.

He makes his home here on the Monterey Peninsula now and has immersed himself in the lure of our mountains, valleys and sea.

HEAVY HAND OF JUSTICE — Death by the guillotine faces Marcello Mastroianni as the character Meursault in "The Stranger." The court's decision is based on Meursault's indifference to the outside world more than on his criminal act. But his choosing this path is his ultimate victory. "The Stranger" a Paramount Pictures release, in color, is based on the novel by Nobel Prize winning author Albert Camus, one the best known and widely read novels in modern western literature. "The Stranger" is being presented by the Carmel Museum of Art and will be shown at the Carmel Villag Theater on May 14 and 15 at 2, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. both days. The exhibit contains paintings the artist has completed in the last six months and which have not been previously shown.

Merilyn Brown, an instructor at the Village Art Center, is also on the faculty of the Monterey Peninsula Lyceum Summer Art Camp. She is a member of the Carmel Art Association and has shown her work widely on the Peninsula in numerous competitions.

Carmel Travelers

(Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bannister of Orinda have had a summer vacation home in Carmel. They have just returned from South America, and their amusing letters have been printed periodically. This is the last.)

Rio de Janeiro is one of the most beautiful cities I have ever seen — the fabulous beaches, the hills rising up right in the middle of the city, Sugar Loaf Mountain with its swinging red tram, Corcovado topped with the magnificent statue of Christ, the Redeemer, the handsome mosaic sidewalks patterned in black and white, thousands of Volkswagens (90%) of all cars here are V.W.'s) driving like mad, honking as they go, and all of the people crowding the beaches, no matter which day — it's each to imagine what carnival in Rio must be like! The night we arrived in Rio a crescent moon was shining on the water, the lighted statue of Christ, the Redeemer, seemed to be suspended in space above the city, the twinkling light of the tiny tram plying up and down Sugar Loaf appeared and disappeared, and suddenly a magnificent display of fireworks occurred at the end of Copacabana Beach! What greater welcome could we have to this fabulous city! !

On Oct. 27, we celebrated Jack's birthday at a beautiful restaurant atop a 40 story unfinished building! The Brazilians have a faculty for starting a beautiful, modern skyscraper, and then never finishing it! Somewhere along the line, they always seem to run out of money.

The medical school of the university was started several years ago and comprised of 2 or 3 very tall buildings. However, there are no insides to these edifices. The guides point with pride and tell you what it is, but have no idea when it will be finished, especially since no one has worked on it for several years!

Getting back to Jack's birthday, we took an elevator up about 20 floors (or more), then got out and wandered about through scaffoldings, over concrete blocks, up and down a few more stairways and finally emerged on the roof of the buildiing to see a gorgous swimming pool and a restaurant!

If someone ever gets enough money, they hope to make this building a hotel, so it's comforting to know that it will at least have a swimming pool and a restaurant. Of course, no one ever uses the swimming pool — it's just there to look at while you eat dinner! The name of the restaurant is "On the Rocks," which certainly seems most appropriate!

Jack's birthday dinner was delicious except for the fact that he ordered one double Scotch and Soda, which together with my one Vodka Tonic cost 27,000 cruzeiros (seven dollars in American money)! Any Scotch drinkers had better by-pass Rio!

The birthday celebration concluded with a delectable chocolate cake complete with candles, and the congratulations of some total strangers who came over and offered their best wishes in fluent Portuguese. Must also mention that a song was written for Jack to the tune of "Bells of St. Mary's"!

Our golf in Rio was played at Gavea Country Club, which was very picturesque, winding through trees, hills and valleys, and then on out to the ocean. Jack had his best game here — a neat 79!

I didn't do very well, but I can blame it on my discovery that the little babbling brook which wends its way through the course is alive with darling, little, deadly, poisonous Coral snakes! As we passed one hole some of the native boys were catching them and cutting their heads off!

You may be interested to know that at our last "weighing in" of luggage, our intrepid little band of travelers turned out to be 750 pounds over weight allowance! We escaped overweight charges until we reached Caracas to go to Jamaica, where they lowered the boom, and we had to spend $172.00 of our liquor money for over-weight!

And it would have been more if our Boxing Commissioner Houston hadn't squared off with the Delta Airlines representative!

Needless to say, our free cocktail parties have been somewhat curtailed!

(I must admit we are now in Jamaica and have been for 2½ days!)

I am ending the account as we leave South America. We flew from Rio to Caracas, Venezuela, where we stayed overnight only, flying out early next morning for Kingston, Jamaica. From Kingston we flew to Montego Bay, where we are supposed to be relaxing from our arduous travels. We are staying at the beautiful Tryall Country Club where we play golf, swim, tour, eat, drink, and hope to relax, at least for a minute, before we get home!

After a two-day stop-over in New Orleans, Jack and I will be "at home," ready, willing, and eager to show our millions of pictures and bore you to death with a further account of the Golfing Gauchos' escapades!

Thanks to the dear people, family and friends, who wrote to us — letters from home are like "manna from heaven," or something like that — and we say a fond adios to one and all and hope to see you soon!

Computer Dance At Carmel High

Once again machines dominate man as the computer comes to Carmel High. With its blinking lights and clicking memory cells, this fantastic machine will assume the role of Cupid, matching couples for the first Computer Dance at Carmel High.

The dance, sponsored and presented by the song and cheerleaders, will be held in CHS gym, May 24, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. The popular band, "Blue Grass" will provide the entertainment. Tickets along with questionaires have been sold all during April.

May 10 marks the deadline for all the filled-out questionaires to be turned in.

The results will be known at the dance, and each person will have four matches.

California Frontier Days Theme for Annual Bay Day Celebration

Welcome news to the young, and the young in heart, plans for the ninth annual Bay Day have been announced by the membership of the Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery.

This year the festivities will take place on Saturday, May 24 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on the grounds of the Bay School, known by many as the "Little Red Schoolhouse" just south of Carmel on Highway One.

In keeping with the Bicentennial year, Bay Day has as its theme "Early California Frontier Days." Those who wish to come in appropriate costume are urged to do so.

A variety of fun and games for the entire family will be offered including the ever popular Indian Trail, a fish pond, ring toss, general store and rummage sale, bake sale and an al fresco luncheon served under the trees. Admission is free. Tickets for the various events will be sold at the gate.

Bay Day, the major fund raising project of the Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery School, is of continuing importance this year in the drive to save the Little Red Schoolhouse.

In compliance with Assembly Bill 450, passed into law during the 1967 Regular Session of the State Legislature, a structural survey of the only school building in the Carmel Unified School District constructed prior to March, 1933, was completed.

This year as last, all proceeds from the Bay Day Carnival will go towards the restoration fund to keep the Little Red Schoolhouse on Carmel Bay, and make it earthquake-proof!

Co-chairmen for this year's event are Mrs. Richard Charles and Mrs. George Neare. Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Harold Price and Mrs. John Pohlemus, posters and flyers; and Mrs. Robert Kaller, publicity.

Donations of wearing apparel, books, plants, etc. for the rummage sale are still being accepted.

Anyone wishing to make contributions may call the school, 624-4397, Mrs. Richard Charles, 624-9769 or Mrs. George Neare, 624-9597.

PWP Campout

A family campout at Pataiso Springs near Soledad is planned by Parents Without Partners of Monterey Peninsula for the Memorial Day weekend.

Other activities during the month include a sand dune slide in Pebble Beach, a theater night, a sit-in at Nepenthe, family roller skating, folk singing, and an adult swimming party at Los Laureles Lodge.

Visitors and prospective members are welcome at many activities of Parents Without Partners, Inc. which is an international, nonprofit, non-sectarian, educational organization devoted to the welfare and interest of single parents and their children.

Membership is open to any Peninsula resident who is a single parent, whether divorced, separated, widowed or unmarried. Children need not be living with the parent for him to qualify.

Monthly meetings, open to the public, are usually held on the last Thursday of the month at the Mark Thomas Inn at 8 p.m. followed by a coffee hour.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 373-2795.

Republicans Name Bob Wood To Run For Pattee State Assembly Seat

The Monterey County Fact Finding Committee for the Republican Party assembled at the Mark Thomas Inn on May 3, with 61 delegates present to select the Republican nominee to fill the vacancy for the 34th Assembly District, due to the untimely death of Alan Pattee.

The delegates attending were representatives from all organizations within the local Republican party. This completely representative group to select a candidate could well set a precedent for the State of California.

Dr. Donald Schma, Central Committee Chairman, presided. Each candidate spoke for a ten minute period, presenting his qualifications, followed by a five minute question and answer session.

The ten candidates presented were Ed Norris, Paul T. Nielson, Dr. Joseph Noto, Mike Panelli, Karl Christiersen, Mitchell Bedford, Ed Peckham, George Tomlinson, Bob Wood, and Wilbur Stevens.

Delegates from Carmel, Lewis Davis and Carvel Baldwin, asked of each candidate two questions: "What is your position on Assembly Bill 5 which would repeal that section of the "Unruh Act" giving power to all local Boards of Education to set the real property tax rate without recourse from the taxpayer as of July 1, 1971?" and "Will you your full support to the candidate selectd at this meeting?"

Each candidate answered affirmatively. Candidate Bob Wood was elected unanimously.

ADOBE CAKE — We don't mean the cake is made of adobe, but that it was baked for last week's Adobe Tour sponsored by the Monterey History and Art Asociation. Baked by Mausritz Adolphon, who smiles proudly beside his creation, the cake depicted the various flags which have flown over California. Adolphson, who was formerly the pastry chef for the King of Denmark, is presently functioning in the same capacity for the Highlands Inn.

KIBBITZ WATCHTOWER — Steve Gann, foreground, Carmel photographer-reporter, watches an artillery duel between Arabs and Israelis. On the tower with him is David Dorfman, a member of the Kibbutz Hamadya.

Steve Gann Covers the Arab-Israeli War

Editor's Note: Steven Gann is a local photographer and reporter who last year covered the war in Vietnam, and is presently in a forward Israeli kibbutz near the Jordanian Border.

This is his report of a short moment in the daily lives of the Israelis who occupy the kibbutz.

Steven A. Gann from Kibbutz Hamadya Jordanian Frontier, Israel

I recently found myself running down one of Kibbutz Hamadya's dirt roads. Cameras were bouncing off my right shoulder, my right hand firmly grasped a bag of film. The left hand was at chest level and extended slightly forward attempting to carry a plate of salad and three forks.

Basically a scene of believable dimensions except in this instance Jordanian and Iraqui 122mm artillery shells were exploding about Kibbutz Hamadya with disconcerting regularity.

The shelling had begun early in the morning, not only making life uncomfortable, but inconvenient since no breakfast had been served.

The houses and paths of the kibbutz were deserted as most of the kibbutzniks were deep within concrete shelters. A few young men were in steel watch towers observers the Israeli-Arab artillery duel, and spotting any damage to the kibbutz or the nearby settlement of Ma'oz Haim.

The shells were whistling and bursting in a staccato-like resonance.

I ran towards the steel tower, cursing as I spilled carrot juice from the plate of salad. It was difficult climbing up the thirty feet of the narrow thin ladder to the watch tower as both hands grappled with the spilling bowl.

Heavy 160mm Israeli mortars were spewing circles of white smoke as they attempted to silence Iraqi and Jordanian artillery in the nearby Gilead Heights.

Answering shells from the Arab guns slammed into the mortar positions and around the kibbutz, exploding in a whirl of brown vapor, or sending spiraling gushers of water into the air when landing in the kibbutz's fish ponds.

In the watch tower two kibbutzniks crouched behind what little protection the wall of the steel tower provided. Each wore an old English helmet, more commonly seen in the history pages of World War I, but no more alienated than the World War II German machine gun mounted above their heads.

"A bit sticky, hey what," I gasped feeling the scene called for such talk. "My fish ponds, my fish ponds," David repeated and slurred the words as he watched the exploding Arab shells through a pair of binoculars.

"Have a taste of salad, mate," I said attempting to console David. Michael turned, having been intently watching two Israeli tanks maneuvering in Ma'oz Haim fields, and lowering his binoculars spoke, "What, no matzoh"!

Market Comments

Dow Theory Business and Stock Market Forecasts letter dated May 2 states: "Although the rail average is still laggardly, there are indications that the long expected spring rally is well under way. Continue to buy and hold stocks but become increasingly selective as prices mount. This is good practice anytime and may prove specially appropriate this year."

Containerized freight handling is growing phenomenally. Many of the companies involved should be given special attention from the investment standpoint.

Republican Women's Political Seminar

Twelve Federated Clubs of this Congressional District will combine to sponsor their meeting in the form of morning seminars followed by a luncheon on Monday, May 12 at Hyatt House, Salinas.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Miller, Special Assistant to the Chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, Washington, D.C., will be the chief moderator. Seminars will begin at 10 and 11 a.m.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

This is our land. Let's treat it right.

UNIQUE VIEW — Most views of the massive 375-ton COMSAT antenna located in the Jamesburg area show the monster from the front, but photographer Sterling D. Mummert caught the structure from behind shortly after the tracking station was dedicated last month. Horses and cattle graze on the Cachagua rangeland, looking up to the mass of wiring and controlling of the back of the huge dish. A group of six Japanese technicians are installing multiplex equipment, and will be living at the Carmel Valley Inn for at least another month. Spokesman for the group Akira Shimizu noted that ". . . this is the first visit to the United States for all of us. We like it here where we have found nice weather, nice people and beautiful scenery."

COMMO EXPERTS — Part of the electronics equipment being installed in the huge COMSAT Tracking Station in the upper Carmel Valley is from the Nippon Electric Co., of Tokyo. When they get a little free time, they are far more interested in the cows and horses than in the"dish." From left, Yasuo Kawanishi, Hideo Kondo, Sankichi Sakata, Kenichiro Shimizu, all technicians, Yoshichika Sakai site chief, and Akira Shimizu, coordinator. According to Shimizu, "Nippon Electric is the leading electronics firm in Japan, and the test multiplex equipment we are installing is the latest in advanced electronics."

POLITICAL SCIENTISTS — Nine Monterey Peninsula College students received scholarships from the World Affairs Council that enabled them to attend the Asilomar Conference last weekend on "The Making of American Foreign Policy." From left, the scholarship winners are Larry Hoyt, Maria Kalacic, Roderick Johnson, Guitti-Khosravifard, Reuben Johnson, sponsor of the group, Kenlong Yuvanatemiya, Scott Daulton, Victoria Hall, Richard C. Ferrill and Elena T. Advincula.

Local Scouts Will Attend Jamboree

Thirty-seven Boy Scouts from this area and three adult leaders will attend the Seventh National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America to be held from July 16 to 22 at Farragut State Park, Idaho.

More than 40,000 Scouts from every state in this country, and visiting Scouts from 42 foreign countries will set up their one week encampment on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille.

The local contingent will leave this area by bus at 8 a.m. on July 8, stop overnight at Medford, Oregon, spend two days in Seattle sightseeing, one day in Vancouver, British Columbia, visit the Grand Coulee Dam, and arrive at the jamboree during the afternoon of July 14.

Scouts from the Carmel area who will attend the Jamboree include Stan Canham, Carmel; Tom Pelton, Carmel; John Toldi, Carmel.

Rev. Arthur L. Cunningham

Ordination To The Priesthood May 16

The solemn ceremonies of priesthood will take place on an ordination to the sacred priesthood will take place on Friday, May 16 at All Saints' Episcopal Church at 9th and Dolores Streets in Carmel, when the deacon of the parish, the Rev. Arthur Leland Cunningham, will be ordained.

The Bishop of California, C. Kilmer Myers, will officiate.

Clergy from the central coastal area of the Episcopal diocese, as well as other bodies and denominations will attend.

Fr. Cunningham came to Carmel last June to be the director of youth activities and Sunday School superintendent at the Episcopal parish. He graduated in May of last year from the Seabury-Western Theological Seminary in Evanston, Illinois. A native of Wichita, Kansas, two of his former rectors — the Rev. James Warner and the Rev. Earl Neill — will be coming to the peninsula for the ordination. Fr. Cunningham and his wife Mary live in Guadalupe Street and he is active in the Drug Center and the Alcoholism Council of the Peninsula. The first celebrations of the Eucharist by the new priest will be on Ascension Saturday, May 17 at 10 a.m. and Ascension Sunday at 9:15 a.m. The public is invited to the ordination ceremonies.

Letter To Editor

To The Publisher:

Regarding your edition of May 1, enough is enough! I am fed to the teeth on "news" items full of editorial comment written by Gunnar Norberg, our rejected Councilman whose only business is sending people away from Carmel via his travel agency.

Why not have news items written as straight news and an editorial column for the opinions of your editorial staff?

But Councilman - Reject Norberg uses your paper as a sounding board for his own warped viewpoints. He is a master at dragging in obscure and unrelated items to wring your heart at the wickedness of the Cultural Commission in daring to begin negotiations for a restaurant long needed at Sunset Center. We need the small conventions that will come to meet in Carmel and use whatever eating facilities eventually evolve from the action of the Cultural Commission. As a business man in Carmel, no apologies, I want to see responsible people come to Carmel — let Councilman-Reject Norberg take care of sending people from Carmel.

We here in Carmel deserve the best of everything including responsible journalism. See that we get it.

Sincerely,
ROBERT P. KOPLAN

SILVER MEDALS—Bonnie Banker, Carmel High sophomore, won two silver medals at last week's synchronized swimming championships in Novato.

Carmel Girl Wins Two Silver Medals In Swim Meet

Bonnie Banker, a 15-year-old Carmel High School sophomore, won two second-place silver medals for the Cypress Swim Club at the 1969 Pacific AAU Outdoor Novice synchronized swimming championships held last weekend at the San Marin Club in Novato.

The meet, which drew 104 entries from 12 Northern California clubs, saw Miss Banker narrowly defeated for first place in both solo and stunts competition by Barbara Cooney of the San Francisco Merionettes.

These girls and other members of the Cypress Swim Club may be seen locally May 18th, when they will perform award-winning routines in exhibition at the "Festival of the Grape" to be held at Rancho Del Monte Country Club in Carmel Valley for the benefit of the Carmel Valley Community Center.

'Afternoon With Camp' At Forest

Folk singer Hamilton Camp will give a benefit concert Sunday afternoon, May 18, at the Forest Theater in Carmel.

Camp, who has recorded four long-play record albums and appeared often on television, accompanies himself on guitar and harmonica.

He writes many of his own songs and has adapted such poems as Yeats' "Innisfree" and Fitzgerald's "The Rubaiyat" to music. He also sings many Bob Dylan songs.

Also on the program, which will be a benefit for Subud, California, will be Oscar Lane and Natasha Regina.

Lane, best known as a mime, is a member of The Committee, a group with which Camp also often performs.

Natasha Regina writes all her own songs, taking her ideas from ancient Greek mythology. She accompanies herself on guitar and recently cut her first album, which is to be released soon.

Camp did two albums for Elektra, the first under the name Bob Camp, and two for Warner Bros.-Seven Arts. His latest album, Welcome to Hamilton Camp, was released just a few months ago.

He has appeared on the Glen Campbell Show, singing with Judy Collins, and was to be a regular on Turn-On, which was turned off permanently after one week last fall.

The concert, An Afternoon With Hamilton Camp, will be produced by Lorenzo Music, a writer for both the Glen Campbell and Smothers Brothers TV shows.

Tickets can be purchased in advance at the Central Box Office at 6th and Mission, the Golden Hearth Bakery at Bernadelli Square in Carmel Valley, Abinantes' in Monterey or by mail from Sudub, California, P.O. Box 511, Carmel Valley.

Lyceum Luncheon at 1969 Home Show

At 12:30 p.m. Friday, May 16, the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula will present a garden luncheon and fashion show, and a speaker at the 1969 Home Show.

The Home Show is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Chapers of the Children's Home Society of California, May 16-18 at the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

The luncheon, to be held in the patio adjacent to the Horticultural Hall, will be highlighted by a special fashion show by Lilli of Carmel.

At 2 p.m., in the speakers room of the Fine Arts Complex there will be an exclusive speakers engagement featuring Clair Young A.I.D.

His subject will be "The Scalamandre Exhibit of White House Fabrics."

Mrs. George Yates, 624-7630, is chairman of ticket sales for the LYCEUM. Tickets to the luncheon, fashion show and lecture may be obtained from the Lyceum or Lyceum members, by phoning 624-2403.

Cores from Deepest Hole Feature of Mineral Meeting

Bert Davis of Monterey will be the guest speaker Friday at the Carmel Valley Gem & Mineral Society's regular monthly meeting at 7:45 p.m. at the Carmel High School Brey Hall.

Davis will present highlights of the "Joides Expedition" in which he took part.

The expedition, sponsored by five universities and a science foundation, was an 18 month trip aboard the global marine vessel "Glomar Challenger" to explore the ocean floor.

They gained international recognition when they drilled the deepest holes in the deepest water to date.

Davis will bring samples of the cores and some slides of microscopic mineral specimens.

After the program refreshments will be served. Visitors are welcome and for further information may call the program chairman Mrs. Robert A. Mullnix at 624-2339.

Mussel Quarantine Imposed May 1

Doctor Richard S. Fraser, Director of Public Health for Monterey Country has announced that a quarantine of mussels for human consumption has been established by the State Department of Public Health effective May 1, 1969.

The quarantine has been placed on the entire California shore line, including the coastal waters of Monterey County. It will be in effect from May 1 through October 31, 1969, and will prohibit the taking or selling of mussels for food during that time. However, mussels may be used for bait during this period, provided they are broken open at the time they are gathered and are placed in containers labeled "Mussel may contain Poison. Unfit for human food."

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God." This verse from I Corinthians is the Golden Text in this week's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man."

A related passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy comments: "A knowledge of evil was never the essence of divinity or manhood."

Exotic Foods At MPC

"Universal Culinary Spectrum," annual food festival of the Monterey Peninsula College International Relations Club, has been scheduled this year for Saturday, May 17.

Featuring foods from many countries prepared by MPC's foreign students, the festival will run from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the Student Union.

There will be music and entertainment.

Tickets are available at Central Box Office, Carmel, and MPC's community services office in the administration building on campus.

Local Delegates Attend Baha'i Annual Convention

Several members of the Carmel Baha'i Community attended the 60th Annual National Convention of the Baha'i Faith in the United States held in Wilmette, Ill., Apr. 24 through 27.

Attending as delegates were Mrs. Arthur Dahl, Del Ciervo Road, Pebble Beach and Marvin Newport of Seaside. The following members attended as visitors: Mrs. Laura Smithson and Miss Marjorie Seiffert of Carmel; Keith Dahl, Pebble Beach and William Stover, Seaside.

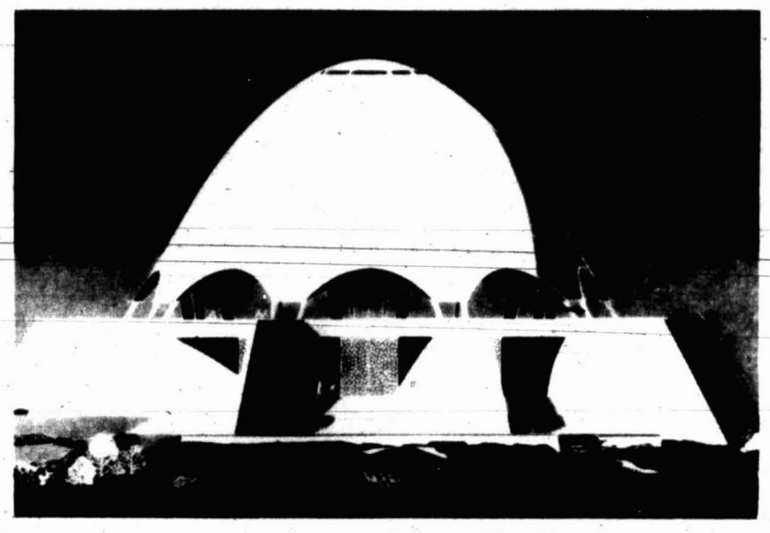
More than 1000 delegates and observers attended the convention held at the National Center of the Baha'i Faith and the site of the world-famous Baha'i House of Worship. Baha'is are established in more than 2400 localities in the United States.

Delegates heard reports on the progress of the Faith in the United States and throughout the world.

Other convention items included plans for proclaiming the Faith during the next four years. Delegates also heard of activities planned by the U. S. Baha'i Community in connection with the observance of its Youth Year which began Apr. 21. During the last several years the Baha'i Faith has been attracting an increasing number of youth.

The Baha'i Faith is an independent world religion with followers in 311 countries and territories of the world. It originated in Persia in 1844. Baha'u'llah, Prophet-Founder of the Faith, died in 1892 in the Holy Land.

He announced that He was the Bearer of God's Word for this age, and proclaimed the oneness of God, the fundamental unity of religion and the brotherhood of man.



PANAMA TEMPLE — This is the artist's conception of the new Temple of Baha'i in Panama for which ground was broken and construction started. A report of the progress of the new House of Worship was given at the 60th National Convention of the Baha'i Faith in Wilmette, Ill., last month.

New Carmel Baha'i Assembly Elected

On Apr. 21 the 106th anniversary of the public declaration of His Divine Mission by the Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith, Baha'u'llah the members of the Carmel Baha'i Community met to elect their Spiritual Assembly, a nine member body which will govern the administrative affairs of the local community during the next 12 months.

This process was repeated in thousands of Baha'i Communities throughout the world.

The members of the new local Spiritual Assembly are: Donald McLean, Chairman; Laura Smithson, Secretary; Norbert Kammer, Treasurer; Inez Greeven; India Haggarty; Nell Applegate; Ruth Bixler, Marjorie Seiffert; and Jana Stroessler.

Nielsen In Slide Talk on May 14

The Carmel Foundation will present Harold Nielsen in a color slide talk, "The South American Incas," at 2:30, Wednesday, May 14, at the Town House, Lincoln year 8th.

Nielsen is known to Peninsula residents for his previous slide talks. As one of the high points of this extensive South American-Guatemalan tour, he mentions the "Lost City of the Incas," Cuzco.

A resident of Carmel since 1923, Mr. Nielsen and his brother, Walter, started the Nielsen grocery store, still in its original location on Dolores Street.

The public is invited to the talk without charge. Tea will be served following the program.

New Trustees For All Saints' School

Names of the following new appointees to the Board of Trustees of All Saints' Episcopal Day School have been announced by Capt. Makr Whittier, chairman: Joel Dickie, William Godwin, Mrs. George Gutteridge, and Dr. Sigurd Liseth, all from Carmel; Arthur Gumbrell, principal of Carmel High School, and Frank Keith, assistant headmaster, Robert Louis Stevenson School.

The addition of a seventh grade at the school, beginning in September, 1969, was also announced by Capt. Whittier. The current grade range is Kindergarten through Grade VI. Enrollment is open to boys and girls throughout the Monterey Peninsula.

Bus transportation is available from Seaside, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Pebble Beach, Carmel, and Carmel Valley.

Teachers Honored

Two English instructors at Monterey Peninsula College — Linley G. Jensen of Carmel and Elliot C. Roberts of Jamesburg Route, Carmel Valley — are listed in two publications issued recently by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Their names appear in "Woodrow Wilson Fellows, 1945-1967" and "A Directory of Woodrow Wilson Fellows Holding Academic Appointments at Colleges and Universities, 1968-1969."

Jensen, who received his Wilson grant, "designed to stimulate interest in college teaching," in 1962, earned his bachelor's degree at San Jose State College and his master's at Stanford University.

Roberts, who became a Woodrow Wilson fellow in 1958, earned his B.A. at Columbia University and his master's at Cornell.

Divergent Opinions Mark Education-Industry Meeting In Salinas

Monterey County education and industry leaders met Thursday afternoon to explore areas of cooperation but spent most of their session delving into philosophical differences.

The meeting in the Salinas City Council Rotunda was called by the Central Coast Counties Industry-Education Council in part of its continuing program to open dialogue between industry and the schools.

The session started with a panel presentation by three school district superintendents: Bob Binns, Salinas Union High School District; Dr. Harris Taylor, Carmel Unified School District; and Dr. Robert Faul, Monterey Peninsula College.

In the audience were 25 representatives of major employers in Monterey County. Within a short time the audience was involved in enthusiastic participation.

From the outset it was clear there was a diversity of opinion on the part of educators.

Binns conceded a need for greater concentration on the three R's — a need pointed out in earlier meetings by employers — and on vocational education. He pointed to his district's extensive work experience program as an excellent direction and praised local employers for their cooperation in this effort.

Neither Taylor nor Faul were so ready to accept an indictment of the schools. Said Taylor, "I am not apologetic about what the schools are doing for children generally. I think we are bringing out better and better products every year."

It was a contention the employers challenged, citing statistics of failure by applicants to pass pre-employment tests calculated at about the eighth grade level.

The fault, retorted Taylor and Faul, is in the tests. Said Faul, "I am critical of the testing process used by business and industry because I find many of them have only surface validity. Very few of your tests are ever validated against a persons ability to perform. Tests are used to screen out rather than to let in."

The Peninsula educators said the schools have a much larger responsibility to their students than simply preparing them to be acceptable employees.

Binns, on the other hand, indicated the schools have a major responsibility to realistically prepare students for their roles in the "world of work."

Taylor pointed out, however, that often students do not pick up the skills they need on the job — or to get a job — in school because of lack of motivation. Industries, he said, could utilize the motivation which employment provides to do their own training of employees and prospective employees. "Because of the motivational factor you are missing out on some good people," he said.

An employer suggested, "Schools have an obligation to train students for real life. I don't think the employers have an obligation to adjust to the product."

Superintendent Binns was in agreement. "I feel that job mobility is a big factor in life. The three R's are still fundamental job skills."

Toward the meeting's end, Binns made the sole request for industrial cooperation. He asked employer assistance in selecting training tools, particularly equipment, used in vocational education programs. There was no audience response.

Jazz Festival Board Awards Sound Contract To Meagher Electronics

The board of directors of the Monterey Jazz Festival has announced that Meagher Electronics of Monterey has been awarded a contract to supply sound amplification for this year's three-day, five concert jazz event, scheduled Sept. 19-20-21.

No newcomer to the Monterey Jazz Festival, the electronic company has handled sound for the event nine years in a row, although it did not supply sound for the 11th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival last year.

An erratic sound system at last year's Festival led to a major study of the Festival's sound requirements. Late last year a number of major sound companies in the U.S. were invited to study the Festival's 7000-seat outdoor arena on the Monterey County Fairgrounds and its cavernous three-year-old stage. After six months of consideration the Festival board of directors awarded the sound contract to Meagher Electronics.

In making the announcement, Mel Isenberger, president of the Festival board, said, "we have full confidence in Meagher Electronics. We know it will provide patrons of the Festival the best possible sound amplification and fidelity. The experience the Meagher company has had with the sound in our arena over the years, the thorough study the company's president James A. Meagher has made of the sound characteristics of the arena's new stage and his resultant recommendations, led to the Festival board's decision."

Season tickets for this year's Festival will go on sale May 1. They cover all five concerts and afford the public an opportunity to select prime seat locations before tickets to individual concerts go on sale.

Further information may be obtained by writing the Monterey Jazz Festival, P.O. Box JAZZ, Monterey, California 93940, or by telephoning (408) 373-2961.

SET BACK THE CALENDAR!
Why is May 7 important?
Statisticians tell us that on May 7 the average person starts working for himself.
Up until then you have been working for the government — to pay your taxes. It's time to learn how to shorten this period — SET BACK YOUR CALENDARS. The key is real estate investment, it ONLY can set back the calendar.
A little "know how" can go a long way toward saving taxes.

Enos Fouratt's Specials
OUR LITTLE TWO BEDROOM BUNGALOW — Owner has obtained a termite clearance and reduced the price from $28,500 to $27,000. It is a real value in Carmel at that figure.

WE HAVE A NEW LISTING that should catch the eye of the astute investor. The improvements are on two 50'x 100' lots on Forest Avenue just South of Ocean. The home on the North lot is an old Carmel Charmer of two bedrooms, a bath and a half, a dining room and den. The two car garage and storeroom are on the South lot and could be incorporated into any new structure you have in mind. The whole package is very realistically priced at $43,500.

OUR OTHER NEW LISTING is an Artist's delight — but it can easily be converted to a Mother's delight by just using the extra large studio for a family room. It is basically two bedrooms, two baths, a split-level-up studio, and a split-level-down with two-car garage large enough for a hobby shop. The kitchen itself with its breakfast area and outlook will sell any mother, not to mention the large dining "L". The accoustical ceilings really absorb the noise. The landscaping and rock walls and planters are designed for minimum maintenance. A very good value at $45,000.

WE HAVE AN EXCELLENT view building site on Oleada for $35,000, another without an ocean view over on Portola, and a top-notch acre in Rancho Rio Vista for $22,500 with a view.

REAP THE BENEFITS of a family's loving care of a home planned by, and built for them 17 years ago! We'll arrange to show you this 3-bedroom, 2½-bath home which they must now leave. It's convenient to schools and town, yet private and quiet. Restful mountain views, both formal and family dining areas, handsome patio plus oodles of storage and shope space. Only $44,500 for this home on a delightful ½-acre lot. May we show you?

CARMEL BARGAIN. We have a small and cute 2-bedroom cottage for sale, completely furnished even including dishes and linens. Utility and breakfast rooms and carport. Minimum yard upkeep. The out-of-town owner says sell for only $24,500.

CARMEL BARGAIN FOR THE MAN who can live in this house and fix it up as he goes. It's on a 55' lot handy to town. 2 bedrooms, 1 bath, separate dining room and living room with fireplace. It's well built but old and needs some work. However, at $24,500 "as is," it's good and worth your time.

What's YOUR Life-Style?

LAZY LUXURY

WHERE ALL THE CONVENIENCES ARE BUILT-IN AND ALL THE MAINTENANCE IS PLANNED OUT:

1. SCENIC DRIVE, CARMEL: Luxuriate with your view in wonderful 2 bedrm., 2-bath home. Also sunny enclosed patio and only $79,000.
2. COUNTRY CLUB: An elegant little private world in the heart of golf activity. For the really "particular," and only $67,500.
3. CARMEL MEADOWS: Right on the beach; you won't believe the luxurious decorating, fine construction, planning, view! $160,000.
4. PEBBLE BEACH: Incredible that such a charming patina can be achieved in a brand new home for only $65,000 — with every luxury feature!

ROMANCE AND TRADITION

TRADITIONAL ARCHITECTURAL STYLES TO PROVIDE THE GRACEFUL BACKGROUND YOUR PARTICULAR ROMANTIC PERSONALITY DELIGHTS IN.

1. CARMEL: A MEDITERRANEAN with tile roof, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, separate guest house off the charming patio, and only $47,500.
2. CARMEL: ENGLISH MANOR IN MINIATURE. Perfect family home with 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, tower shaped entrance, just $49,500.
3. CARMEL CLOSE IN, really romantic and traditional with a gorgeous living room, 2 stories, new kitchen, 100'x100' corner lot—$59,000.
4. CARMEL HIGHLANDS: One of the lovely old homes on almost 2 acres with marvelous ocean view. Elegance. Seclusion. $79,500.
5. CARMEL HIGHLANDS: With deeded access to Pt. Lobos — one of the handsomest stone haciendas in the area. Price $225,000 and worth it!

FLAIR AND TRADITION?

We may have one of the only small homes in this whole area that really qualifies for a person with this life-style. It even has a brook running through the living room, and a waterfall. In sunny Carmel Valley and only $37,500.

Also — do ask Barbara Farris about the several "fun" shops she has available right now.

CONTEMPLATIVE

YOU WANT SECLUSION. YOU WANT BEAUTIFUL THINGS TO VIEW WHILE YOU THINK ABOUT THE WORLD, WRITE YOUR BOOK OR PAINT YOUR PICTURE. YOU AND WORDSWORTH WOULD HAVE BEEN JUST GREAT TOGETHER. REGARDEZ:

1. CONTEMPLATE PT. LOBOS and the fabulous, ever changing Valley hills from a really custom 2 bedroom home with incredible studio possibilities in the long lanai (completely enclosed) or paneled den. $70,000.
2. OR RUN AAY to a real "Sound of Music" setting on six acres up in a coastal canyon about 15 miles south of Carmel. The magnificent A-frame residence will astound you; the setting will take your breath away. The price will please you — only $59,500.

Special Notices

OH, for the Merry Month of May! Make it a must to come a-larking up the winding Carmel Valley Road to our charming little Village, where one may see artisans at work — painting, sculpting, batiking, silk-screening, potting, as well as serving up delectable works of culinary art.

Such as Swiss Quiche Lorraine, Hot Apple Dumplings, Salubrious Sandwiches, and now, Spring Salads, a glory of garden goodness, at the Keeping Room. We offer a pristine creation of all-white-meat chicken salad with slivered almonds mingling, and a piquant pineapple cream dressing to slather all over it . . . with its own miniature loaf of hot lemon herb bread on its own little bread board.

And we have California Gourmet Salad: halves of tiny cherry tomatoes, pineapple chunks, avocado, Velveeta cheese, water chestnuts, cucumber, scallions and pecans, with caper cream dressing to set it off, and curry bread on the side. Fruit Salad in all its splendor with our own marvelous raisin orange bread. And lastly, a fresh tossed salad of sweet lettuce greens and avocado with bacon bits sprinkled through, with either Ancient Mariner or oil and lemon dressing, accompanied by hot Serendipity Bread.

No. 6 Pilot Road. Closed Monday. 659-2512.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB available for receptions. Catering if desired. Lovely surroundings. Call 624-8261, Extension 235 or 375-9491.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS — 373-3713 or 373-1611, day or night. Central Office, 572 Lighthouse, Pacific Grove.

Early Carmel Charm "Plus"

REFLECTING MONTEREY COLONIAL INFLUENCE IN DESIGN, this appealing spic and span home offers a choice location with its cul-de-sac spacious site. Its exterior is pleasing with its half-balcony, setting among trees and shrubs and grapestake fencing. Open-beam ceiling, random-width flooring and fireplace in the 22-foot living room; bay-window dining spot with garden outlook; modern equipment in the functional kitchen; two bedrooms and two baths and an upper-level space for a desk or sewing center. Only $37,500 . . . a GOOD investment!

Ideal Corner Location

FOR THIS CHEERFUL HOME where gay colors and sunshine prevail. In immaculate condition inside and outside and featuring spacious rooms, this newly listed property represents top market value at $32,500. Two bedrooms, a country-type kitchen with a family dining corner, an inviting living room with hearth and ample bookshelves, a detached hobby room and a sheltered patio-play area are some of the MANY desirable qualities of this very attractive property.

Nothing "Humdrum"

ABOUT THIS UNUSUAL RESIDENCE! The delightful setting permits enjoyment of sunset's glow from the living room through lacy tree-tops, a vista of Point Lobos from a bedroom study and an outlook toward a terraced garden through a sheltered patio. The original architect's design, combined with that of James Pruitt for a new addition, insures an interesting interior which comprises a charming living room, two bedrooms, two baths, a colorful kitchen with modern appliances and a very pleasing dining wing. A New Listing . . . . $44,500.
